

Andy Bressler, CFA

Mr. Bressler joined Bank of America in 1995. He provides analysis of trends, forecasts, legislative and regulatory impacts, and strategic directions for the healthcare industry. He works with both the fixed income and equity healthcare research teams, as well as the Bank's healthcare investment banking team.

Before joining Bank of America, Mr. Bressler was director for policy and research at the National Institute for Health Care Management, where he provided analysis of both healthcare legislation and healthcare market trends.

Prior to helping form the National Institute for Health Care Management, Mr. Bressler was an associate in the Strategy Practice of Mercer Management Consulting. There he worked in a variety of industries, including healthcare, insurance, telecommunications, computer equipment, textiles, and industrial products. Mr. Bressler consulted with corporations on benchmarking, business development, corporate restructuring, acquisitions, finance and marketing plan development.

Mr. Bressler received an MBA, as a Dean's Scholar, from the University of North Carolina–Chapel Hill. He received an M.S. and a B.S., cum laude, from the University of Michigan. He also serves on the University of Michigan Alumni Board of Directors.

Mr. Bressler lives in Washington, D.C. with his wife Shellie, and twin sons, Adam and Casey.
